Mr. Pat Roy
Mt. St. Helens Creation Center

“The Journey to Novarupta”

The biggest eruption in modern times happened in the Alaskan Peninsula in 1912. It was 30 times larger than Mt. St. Helens. A couple of years later, Dr. Robert Griggs led an expedition into the blast zone. His book would inspire another explorer almost a hundred years later to return to this amazing wilderness to document the evidence for a world-wide flood, and a biblical ice-age!

About Mr. Roy:

Our presenter is Pat Roy. Pat served at the Institute for Creation Research for 12 years as the Director of Broadcast Media. It was during this time at ICR that he and his wife created the Jonathan Park audio dramas, a creation-based audio drama heard by millions around the world. They recently created a new audio drama called, Time Chroniclers. Pat has served as Director at Genesis Apologetics. He has traveled the nation speaking to hundreds of audiences, of all ages, about the importance of trusting God's Word. He currently serves as the Director of the Mount Saint Helens Creation Center.
